On April 1st, Mrs. Eldon Claussen left her position as clerical assistant with the Scott County Library to become a full time farm wife. Mrs. Claussen has been with the library since it began operation in its Eldridge headquarters, April 1, 1950. In her two years of employment at the library, Mrs. Claussen has done all the typing & most of the pasting and shellacking connected with processing the 18,000 books in the collection. In her spare time, she has helped check out collections of books to schools and stations, make posters, and wait on the public, all with cheeful speed and efficiency.

The Claussens moved from Eldridge to a farm near Eldridge early this year. The best wishes of the entire Scott County Library organization go with Mrs. Claussen in her new role.

As yet, no one has been appointed to replace Mrs. Claussen.

Mrs. Eldon Claussen has resigned her postion as clerical assistant in the Scott County Library. The resignation becomes effective April 1. Since the headquarters of the library were opened in Eldridge on April 1, 1950, Mrs. Claussen has been employed there as typist-clerk. In that time she has typed all the book pockets and cards for the 18,000 volumes in the library collection on the day of her resignation. When one realized that it means one pocket and an average of six cards for each book, some conception of the work accomplished is understood. In addition to the typing, there is an almost unending variety of other work connected with the job, too.

As yet, no one has been found to fill the vacancy on the staff. Mrs. Claussen has resigned because, since she and her husband moved, early this year, from Eldridge to a farm nearby, she has found the role of farm wife to be increasingly demanding of her time
